Dear Prospective Vendors and Organizations:

The Colonial School District, the Fellowship House of Conshohocken, Plymouth Township, Whitemarsh Township and the Plymouth Meeting Whole Foods Market invite you to join us for the second annual ECO FEST on Thursday, March 1, 2012. This unique event highlights the benefits and advantages of making ours a greener, more environmentally friendly community.

We encourage you to participate and showcase your products and services and help us to educate our residents on why and how they can join the effort to preserve and save our precious environment.

The ECO FEST is free to vendors and to the entire public. It will be held in the Plymouth Whitemarsh High School west gym and west cafeteria on Thursday, March 1, 2012 from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. We hope that you will join us and other vendors and organizations with your special messages to help the entire community "GO GREEN" at this event.

Please confirm your participation by Wednesday, February 1, 2012 by calling Doug Knauss at 484-553-2214 (office direct) or by e-mailing dknauss@whitemarshtwp.org. More specific information will be forwarded at that time.

Thank you for your consideration and we look forward to hearing from you.

David M. Sherman, Colonial School District Community Relations Coordinator
Darlene Hildebrand, Fellowship House Executive Director
Joanna Rizzuto, Plymouth Township parks and Recreation Department Program Manager
Douglas W. Knauss, Whitemarsh Township Director of Parks and Recreation
Amy Chidichimo, Plymouth Meeting Whole Foods Market marketing Specialist
